

WAR BETWEEN JAPAN, CHINA IS IMMINENT

Ultimatum Expires; Nanking Ignores Provisions

Washington—To those who sat in the secret Senate judiciary committee meeting which finally buried the Supreme Court bill, it was one of the most dramatic sessions ever held on Capitol Hill.

Republican members of the committee looked on with ill-concealed delight while Democrats, completely unabashed, openly pleaded for party harmony.

Vice President Garner, just arrived from the Robinson funeral, was the chief pleader. He told his Democratic colleagues, in effect, that it was a question of the party or the bill, and let's stand by the party.

"I want to do anything that can be done to help the country," Garner told the judiciary committee. "But I also want to save the Democratic party from a bust-up. That isn't going to do any of us Democrats any good. The President is liked and he knows it. But don't let's bloody his nose."

This remark was directed at Senator Ed Burke. The irreconcilable Nebraska, who three years ago was elected as a "100 per cent Roosevelt supporter," wanted the opposition to fight to the last ditch against any kind of a judicial measure even one relating to lower court procedure.

"We can work out a bill that will satisfy everybody," continued the Vice President. "I told Senator Wheeler to write his own ticket. I mean that; the administration means it. Let's get together and stop all this fighting. We want to be brothers once more."

"What about political reprisals?" demanded Senator Pat McCarran, who must run for re-election next year and is under hot fire in Nevada.

"There will be none of that so far as my influence can prevent it," Garner replied. "We don't want war; we want peace."

"I am sure we Republicans will be glad to help you, Mr. Vice President," observed Senator Borah with a wide grin.

Two reasons underlie the apprehension of the anti-court bill crowd: 1. Fear that the Supreme Court next term may go Old Guard again and throw out important liberal measures.

Invalidation of the holding company act, or denial of the governments right to lend money to states and communities to build power plants, would be certain to boom-erang against the oppositionists. Either would give Roosevelt a powerful weapon against the group that has now defeated him.

2. The bitter attacks of the anti-against the President may encourage rivals to take the field against them using these personal slams as an issue. Some of the anti-anti wish privately that they hadn't been so vituperative against Roosevelt. For while he took a terrific trouncing the anti-anti admit that his personal popularity is little impaired.

Alphonse & Gaston Wheeler and Burke outdid each other in exchanging congratulations on their victory. As they emerged from the judiciary committee meeting, Wheeler announced to the throng of newsmen.

"Boys, all the credit belongs to Burke. He did a great job. He made a great fight. He is a great Democrat. It is his victory."

"Not at all," protested Burke, grinning broadly. "Burt Wheeler is the man who should get the credit. He was our leader. It's his victory."

"Just a minute," broke in a reporter, "which of you is Alphonse and which Gaston?"

None had been more clamorous in their demands for government economy than Senators Josiah Bailey of North Carolina and Royal S. Copeland of New York. In season and out of season they have dinned on this refrain.

Nanking, China, July 28—(Wednesday)—(AP)—Chinese military headquarters stated early today that Japanese forces had attacked Peiping shortly before midnight.

The headquarters stated that its information was contained in official Peiping dispatches.

A spokesman said the dispatches reported "a severe engagement is in progress. The rattle of rifles, machine guns and artillery has broken out all around Peiping."

The new battle reports followed swiftly upon issuance by the Chinese central government of a sharp statement which was interpreted as rejection of Japan's two ultimatums demanding Chinese troop withdrawals from the Peiping area.

The statement, issued by the foreign office, said China had exhausted every effort for peace with Japan and could not accept responsibility for what happened in North China from now on.

It charged that the Japanese North China army made an "unprovoked attack on the Chinese garrison at Langfang" and then "presented impossible demands and staged provocative acts on the outskirts of Peiping."

(A Chinese garrison was reported routed by Japanese troops yesterday at Langfang, midway station on the Tientsin-Peiping railroad. Later, Chinese and Japanese troops fought inside and outside the Peiping wall.)

U. S. TROOPS READY Peiping, July 27—(AP)—United States marines prepared sandbag fortifications for the gates of the international legation quarter this afternoon after a Japanese ultimatum for evacuation of Chinese troops from the tense region west of Peiping had expired in an atmosphere of strict Japanese military secrecy.

The American contingent was assigned to guard four gates of the legation quarter against any hostilities that might break out if China failed to comply with Japanese demands.

Japanese authorities piled sandbag fortifications round windows and doors of the Yokohama Specie Bank's offices and all police forces of the foreign quarter were standing by for instant action.

The strictest secrecy also veiled the actions of Chinese military forces, and authorities declined to disclose whether soldiers of the 37th division had quit the area west of Peiping as Japan demanded.

A state of semi-emergency existed in the Peiping legation quarter as thousands of Japanese nationals, ordered to concentration points by their embassy, poured into the crowded section after being subjected to stern scrutiny.

Planes Circle City American embassy officials, however, took no precautionary action further than those under instructions issued two weeks ago, shortly after the North China tension arose.

Japanese planes circled low over the city while a detachment of 300 Japanese troops reached the embassy to reinforce the guards already on duty there.

Suggestion

Centralia, Ill., July 27.—J. A. Brown asked police today if he could get a city license for Abner, his pet bull-frog.

But H. Schuman, a neighbor, told police a license was too good for Abner, that what the creature needed was a halter.

"It sounds like a donkey in the night," Schuman complained. "My children are so frightened they can't sleep."

Chief of Police William Kaelin suggested Brown curb his pet before some one reduced it to froglegs.

KILLED WOMAN AT HER REQUEST HE CONFESSES

Became Frightened After Act, Life Seemed Futile

New York, July 27—(AP)—Police quoted Stanley A. Martin, an unemployed automobile salesman, as saying he strangled a woman companion early today at her own request because "she didn't want to live any longer."

The slaying, police said he told them, climaxed an illicit love affair which had become "hopeless" because both were married.

The victim, Mrs. Florence Jackson, 37, of Jackson Heights, mother of two children, was found dead in a car driven by Martin when the alleged slayer stopped a radio police car and asked for medical aid for Mrs. Jackson.

She had been garroted, police said, with a belt from her dress.

Patrolmen Thomas Kelly and Dennis Carmody, driving the radio car, said Martin told them he met Mrs. Jackson in a Jackson Heights restaurant last night and she accompanied him to several night clubs in Flushing at Great Neck, L. I.

"After we had driven around for a while," the officers quoted Martin as saying, "we discussed the futility of our love. We were both married and it looked hopeless. She said, 'What's the use of living—why not kill me?'"

Martin complied with her request, according to police, because he "didn't want to disappoint her." He also planned to take his own life and started to write a note explaining the tragedy when he became frightened.

Physicians pronounced the victim dead on arrival at Flushing hospital. Martin was held for further questioning.

WILL FULTON'S LAST RITES WEDNESDAY MORNING

Funeral of Beloved Newspaper man at Brother's Home

The funeral of Will Fulton, advertising manager of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, whose service with this paper extended well over half a century, and who passed away at his home at 2:05 o'clock Monday afternoon after an illness of ten days, will be held at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of his brother and devoted sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton, 324 North Galena avenue, to which his body was taken.

The Rev. Fr. B. Norman Burke, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, will be in charge of the last rites, and burial will be beside his father, mother, a sister and a brother in the family lot in Oakwood cemetery.

Native of Dixon Billy, who started his connection with The Telegraph as a boy in the early '80s, was born in Dixon Jan. 3, 1868, the son of John and Margaret Fulton. He received his education in the public schools of the north side. He started at the very bottom of the ladder for The Telegraph and advanced steadily to his position of responsibility through careful, faithful and untiring work, often working late into the night that he might start the following day with a clear desk and a knowledge that his labors had been well done.

Loved His Fellows His friendships, which included his fellow workers, his patrons in business, his associates on his trips up the river in his canoe or on his hikes through fields and woods, were sincere, deep and lasting. He loved his fellow men and they reciprocated.

In his home Billy was especially kind and considerate, and his passing has left an unfillable void in the hearts of his brothers, James and Robert; his sister-in-law, who watched over him as one of her own; his niece, Mrs. Walter M. Smith, and two nephews, Robert Fulton, Jr. and Cedric Fulton, of Birmingham, Ala., and Chicago, respectively.

Billy was a member of Dixon lodge B. P. O. Elks for many years.

TAX RATES UPON HOLDING FIRMS TO BE RAISED

Washington, July 27.—(AP)—The Senate-House tax committee agreed tentatively today to increase tax rates applied to personal holding companies and restrict tax deductions permitted them.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said the group had completed its work on the personal holding company phase of its efforts to devise ways of closing tax avoidance loopholes. He declined, however, to disclose what rates or deductions had been approved. He said they still might be altered.

The committee, he said, decided to call Robert Jackson, assistant attorney general, before it tomorrow in open session.

Republican members have indicated they wished to question Jackson about his advice to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt that some income from radio broadcasts, paid directly to charity, was not taxable as her income.

Jackson wrote the committee he had so advised the first lady when he was chief counsel of the internal revenue bureau in 1934.

Representative Fish (R-NY) claimed Mrs. Roosevelt took advantage of a tax loophole in connection with the radio income.

Doughton said also that the treasury had reported tax returns of James Roosevelt, the President's son, and of Secretary Morgenthau would be submitted immediately.

Fresh Outbreaks Break Quietude In Strike Areas

Connellsville, Pa., July 27.—(AP)—Fresh outbreaks of the minor violence which has spotted operations of two picketed coal mines of the Republic Steel Corporation spread a tense spirit throughout the district today as other mines made plans for reopening.

The shooting of a farmer and an attack upon a group of workers late yesterday intensified differences which have existed since the Trotter and Davidson shafts were reopened two weeks ago in defiance of a United Mine Workers strike called to support the walkout in the company's steel mills.

BILLY FULTON

A most beloved member of the Dixon Evening Telegraph force has gone to his reward and no one can ever take his place in the hearts and memories of those of us who have had the privilege and happiness of working with him in the years gone by. Billy Fulton died after a brief illness that was brought on or at least hastened by the intense summer heat. Billy had been failing in health for some time but his devotion to his duties as Advertising Manager of the Evening Telegraph had kept him at his desk or at his work on the street too long.

No one ever could be more faithful to his job than Billy Fulton. Hours meant nothing to him if there was any work he could do at the office. His arrival on the job in the morning could have regulated any clock but his departure was usually many hours after everyone else had gone home. His idea of a pleasant way to spend Sunday morning was to plug away at his desk with office work. His heart and soul were in The Telegraph and its welfare for more than half a century. He came to work for The Telegraph as a boy in his teens and his first pay check came from The Telegraph (then a weekly) and from then on, over a period of fifty-four years, Billy has been a faithful and highly valued employee of this newspaper.

But he has been more than an employee. He was as much interested in the welfare of The Telegraph as any of its owners. He was an integral part of this business. He grew up with it and he knew all about every department of it. He saw the change from the old-fashioned hand presses to the modern high speed rotating stereotype color presses and all the other developments of the printing industry.

Genial, kind and peace-loving, friendly to everyone, surely Billy Fulton did not have an enemy on earth and on the streets of Dixon, where he was such a familiar figure, he was universally beloved.

Artistic was Billy. He took great pride in laying out a well balanced, good-looking advertisement. He liked smart clothing and in his younger days was quite a fashion-plate.

Billy's mortal remains will be laid to rest in Oakwood Cemetery tomorrow morning but his valiant spirit soars on to a better life and his memory will be enshrined in the hearts of Evening Telegraph workers as long as those of us who knew him are alive.

During the hour of the funeral The Telegraph office will be closed.

Rocky Road

"It's a rocky road to Nelson," commented a resident of the village today in discussing the difficulties of traffic to or from Dixon. Some of the route would provide a fitting example for the need of a safety program where the road is dangerously rough and weeds are almost as high as a car. This latter condition was the cause of what might have proven to have been a serious accident this morning at the junction of two roads just east of the Cook school. Last week another bad accident was narrowly averted at another junction a half mile west. Residents of the village and those who use the road are anxious that something be done at once to remedy the dangerous conditions.

NEGRO RAPIST UNDER SPECIAL GUARD TODAY

Arraignment Due on Charges of Attacking Three Women

Juliet, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Lawrence Warlick, 23-year-old escaped Negro trustee of the Will county jail, was held under special police guard today, pending his arraignment on charges of attacking three white women.

Police Chief Nicholas J. Fornano said Warlick confessed the attacks after he was identified by the victims.

The Negro, who was sentenced to the county jail in April to serve a six months sentence for petit larceny, was arrested in Chicago yesterday at the home of an uncle, Leonard Mitchell.

Police Commissioner David Lentz said he would demand an investigation to determine why Warlick was made a trustee in view of his criminal record.

Warlick had been sprinkling the jail lawn Friday night when he escaped. The following night a waitress, the widow mother of two children, was attacked. Another married woman and a 15-year-old girl were the other victims. Another girl of 16 escaped by fleeing into her home and barricading the door.

Chief Fornano quoted Warlick as saying he committed the attacks because he planned to leave Juliet, "so I didn't think it would make any difference."

States Attorney James E. Burke said he would ask the grand jury to vote a charge of rape against Warlick immediately.

Window Smashers

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Serenely smiling, two fashionably-groomed young women smashed the plate glass window of a dress shop in suburban Evanston.

Sergeant Burt Kinder arrived to find the window smashers reclining at ease in the midst of the window displays but he could get no explanation of their conduct.

Yet he went back to the station alone. You can't arrest was dummies for falling against glass, he explained.

STRIKE RIOT CONTINUES IN CLEVELAND, O.

One Killed, at Least 60 Injured in Series of Clashes

BULLETIN Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—U. S. Marshal Al W. Hosinski testified today union pickets had prevented him from escorting workers into the strike-breaking South Bend, Ind., plant of the Bike-Web Manufacturing Co. in a hearing on the company's application for a temporary injunction against mass picketing and violence.

The company, a subsidiary of the Kendall Co., was granted a preliminary injunction a week ago at Danville, Ill., by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindsey who heard argument today.

Hosinski said unarmed pickets barred gates to the plant yesterday and refused to permit him to escort 30 women workers through their lines.

Cleveland, July 27.—(AP)—Republic Steel Corp. workers and striking pickets clashed last night in a bloody battle in the Corrigan-McKinney steel mill valley cracking heads with clubs, pickaxes, iron pipes and any handy weapons that could be swung to advantage in a free-for-all melee.

The after-dark rioting, lasting into the morning, sent more than 60 persons to hospitals and doctors with head wounds and other injuries, and climaxed a day of outbreaks between workers and strikers in the mill area.

Casualties for the day included one death and well over 100 injured. Four hundred police, including 200 on special duty, were ordered to the mill area for the changing of the morning shift at the Corrigan-McKinney plant today.

Police Captain James E. Ferrite announced that all persons seen with weapons of any kind would be arrested and held for investigation.

C. I. O. Office Wrecked

Leaders of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee near the plant was wrecked by a band of workers.

Rioting reached its peak about 11 P. M. at 10:30 strikers began evading police who had been keeping back crowds of sympathizers, and made their way into the valley where they could stop cars at will.

At 11, about 500 workers identifying themselves with white arm bands, rushed out of the Independence Road gate of the plant attacking a group of about 100 pickets, witnesses said.

One Man Killed John O'Creary, 45, an S. W. O. C. picket, and a Republic crane operator for 16 years, was killed yesterday afternoon when he was struck by a car driven by a Republic worker and, which, police said, careened out of control when the driver ducked to avoid a barrage of bricks. Police gave the driver's name as William Johnson. Police Sergeant Cornelius Sullivan, in charge of the area, said no charges would be filed against Johnson.

Two score persons were reported injured yesterday afternoon, and 20 more yesterday morning in clashes between workers and pickets.

Six S. W. O. C. members arrested during last night's rioting, were held without charge. Seven others arrested in earlier fighting faced definite charges.

8 EXTRA POUNDS OF RUBBER...

TAPPING RUBBER TREES ON FIRESTONE PLANTATIONS IN LIBERIA

From these vast plantations come an ever increasing supply of the world's finest rubber. Firestone economics in producing raw materials, manufacturing and distribution make it possible for Firestone to give you so much more for your money.

Another Reason Why FIRESTONE GIVES YOU SO MUCH EXTRA VALUE AT NO EXTRA COST

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS— eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts dangerous internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES— because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING— because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

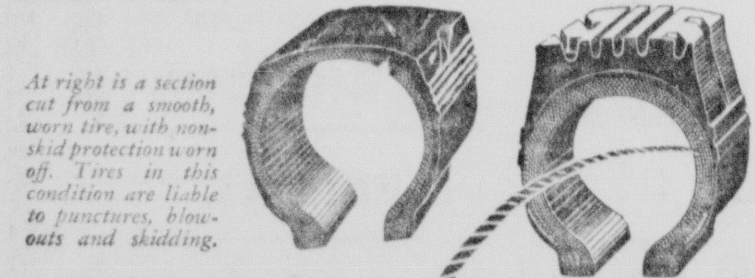

Before leaving on your vacation trip, join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires—today's top tire value.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON THIN WORN TIRES DO YOU KNOW

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to unsafe tires?

At right is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire, with non-skid protection worn off. Tires in this condition are liable to punctures, blowouts and skidding.

At left is section cut from a new Firestone tire. Note the thick, non-skid protection against skidding, blowouts and punctures. Come in and see by actual demonstration.

DIRKSEN TRACES RISING OF ISMS IN THIS NATION

Warns Against Paternalism Hysteria in Government

Salem, Ill., July 27—(AP)—Congressman Everett M. Dirksen of Peoria, Ill., asserted today that since the World war changes in government "have been away from the American form and in the direction of Fascism and Communism."

"Democracy has been in retreat and the occasion calls for fearless thinking," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at the Republican rally held in connection with the 54th annual Marion County Soldiers' and Sailors' Reunion.

He urged his party to follow "the middle road" as "the reasonable course which bids us to attain liberal objectives by conservative means."

"The spirit of paternalism has grown to a point where there is a constant clamor for new laws to heal every economic ill," said Dirksen, warning that "no governmental agency ever controlled mass hysteria once it was set in motion."

"... We can have relief without political waste, we can have a square deal for the farmers without regimentation, we can outlaw child labor, we can preserve the American market for the American people, we can dispense with mythical monetary schemes, we can have a standard of wages and hours upon which we can look with genuine pride, and we can effect a happy combination of idle dollars and idle hands, as will bring a degree of prosperity and contentment that will be worthy of the genius of our people."

Also sounding the Republican battle cry in the first big rally preceding the senatorial election next year was State Rep. Richard Lyons of Libertyville, Ill. The speakers were introduced by Harry Johnson of Salem, chairman.

Dirksen and Lyons have been prominently mentioned for the candidacy to oppose Senator William H. Dieterich, Beardstown Democrat, in next year's senatorial election. State Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield and C. Wayland Brooks of Chicago, unsuccessful candidates for governor in the last election, also have been mentioned.

Johnson called a conference of party leaders at the park hotel preceding the speaking program.

Past Presidents of Phidians Met With Mrs. White

There were twelve guests, and Miss Anna Geisenheimer, and Mrs. Eustace Shaw were guests of honor inasmuch as they were coronation visitors in London May 12th. They had many pictures of the event in which a keen interest was shown. Miss Geisenheimer gave a splendid talk upon what she called the most outstanding event in her years of sightseeing and travel. The place cards were of rich gold background bearing pictures of the crowned heads of Europe.

The delicious luncheon served, carried out the same idea and colors. The salad of gold and red was molded in the shape of a crown; everything presented a royal appearance. Mrs. White gave the finishing touch by placing upon the head of each guest a lovely gold coronet. ## LEARNING THE ALPHABET

Dr. Gary Myers dwells on the subject of learning the alphabet.

"Although I used to advise parents not to expose the child to learning of the alphabet before school, I would now reverse this advice, and urge them to have the child play with alphabet blocks with the hope that he might learn both the capitals and the small letters," says the child psychologist.

"Before going to Russia last summer, I tried to learn a little Russian. Without first having mastered the Russian alphabet, I think I could have made no progress. But later I was not distracted by the letters as I attacked words and phrases. I just can't quite understand how a child is going to learn to read well who does not know the alphabet."

We do not have to reverse ourselves on that point. We do not even have to go to Russia to support our opinion. All we have to do is to mingle with persons whose children have been victims of that experiment and hear complaints that the child can not find words in the dictionary because he never learned the alphabet.

There ought to be progress in processes of educating. That is, as long as progress can be made. We should always keep in mind, however, that change isn't always progress. These matters must, in the last analysis, be left to the educators. It is a matter for regret that we can not make the speedy experiments in schools that are possible in the industrial laboratories.

In the laboratories the experimenters can determine in a comparatively short time what ten years' wear or operation will do to a substance, a surface, or a piece of mechanism.

It is not so with the schoolroom and the child.

We can't speed up the operation and determine the effect of a fad upon the mind of the pupil or the handicap it may develop. The trouble with these fads is that they take the country when they get started. We can't wait. There can't be so very many new ways of learning a thing and all be progressive. Why can't we wait for completion of experiments and determination of results, such as whether or not the pupil will be able to use the dictionary intelligently if he is not taught the alphabet?

WHAT DO WE DEFEND?

Jay Franklin, a remnant of the writers of the day when Tugwellians were in flower, says no moderns would die for their state, meaning one of the forty-eight divisions of our country. To which, Robert Quillen replies:

"Piffle! They would die for their state, as for their country, if aliens attacked it."

In our opinion Franklin is exactly upside-down.

Is it not a fact that, in the last analysis, we who are not brought up on war psychology and hatred of our next-door neighbor are incited to fight for our homes, our families, our property, our rights, as persons?

We don't have to have a bearer of the Stars and Stripes in front of us to induce us to defend our land against encroachments of a neighbor who is attempting to move a line-fence.

That is instinctive.

It was not because of any particular affection for the people of Columbus, N. M., who were attacked by Mexicans that made us want to go down and mop up Mexico. We didn't know any of them.

But we might have been there and it might have happened to us?

That's what makes us want to fight.

It isn't our devotion to the people of Key West or Portland, Ore., or Portland, Me., that makes a midlander see red if those cities are under attack. He looks at his own home and asks himself whether or not it is worth saving from foreign attack.

There is where we begin taking measurements.

We love our flag, all right, but we love it because it bespeaks for us that protection that means most to us and the protection that means most to us applies to our own homes and to our own acres and to our own rights and to our own liberties.

Upon these homes the nation rests, in more ways than one.

ITALY AS A "SHUT-IN"

With a decree limiting newspapers to six pages, Italy has reached another shining milestone in its official campaign for self-sufficiency. In the United States, where people are quick to deflate such boogies, the decree would be a farce.

But it is stimulating to consider how such a campaign might work out here. Publishers now would be canceling their big orders for Canadian newsprint. Readers' favorite features would be squeezed out of the six-page editions. Schoolroom paper was shooting might be classed as treason.

Going on to other logical conclusions, self-sufficiency might bring decrees to bar honey-mooners from looking across at the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, and vacationers would have to keep naturalization papers ready for the big fish they caught outside the national boundaries.

Eventually, the public's common sense would call for a revolt. And unless the Italian race has been grossly misjudged it, too, is going to get tired, some day, of living like a hermit.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GILDSTON

A CURE FOR CANCER?
Without doubt, the greatest medical discovery of the future will be a cure for cancer. But quite properly those concerned with cancer ask: Are we justified in expecting the development of a single comprehensive cure for the disease?

Dr. John J. Morton of Rochester, N. Y., discusses this question in the Bulletin of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. His answer is equivocal.

We have not as yet advanced far enough in our knowledge of the "mechanism" of cancer to say whether or not we may expect a single comprehensive cure for cancer. . . . At the present time, we must look upon cancer as a group of many diseases. Each type has its own peculiarities of behavior. Each type responds in its characteristic fashion to such variations in therapy as we have at our command.

And yet, from the profusion of the established miscellaneous facts concerning cancer, certain definite and significant generalizations can be drawn. Thus, the cancer process consists "in a change in behavior of the affected cells." This change is witnessed in the disorderly and unregulated growth and multiplication of the affected cells.

The "mechanism" of cancer is substantially different from the mechanisms witnessed in other disease conditions. It is most closely related to normal cell growth, and to cell repair following injury. The latter is indeed in many respects as mysterious as the origin of cancer. For witness this:

The cells, say of the connective tissue of the hand, remain quiescent while intact. Should they, however, be injured, certain of the cells will begin to grow and multiply, and thus repair the hurt.

IS IT LONG HOURS OF DRIVING THAT CAUSES SO MANY DRIVERS TO GO TO SLEEP AT THE WHEEL?

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. One of the surprising facts developed by the National Safety Council according to Science News Letter, after studying the accidents caused in twelve states by drivers who were asleep, was that nearly half of these drivers had been driving less than two hours! However, at least one-third of them had been without sleep from other causes for from 16 to 20 hours. So it is evident that it is lack of proper amounts of sleep in general rather than long, grueling hours at the wheel that causes most of the driver-asleep accidents.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. You may remember the study I mentioned recently made by Sisters Fridiana and Rosanna Peters under the direction of H. H. Remmers, Purdue University psychologist, which showed the marked improvement in law observance that could be brought about in young people by having them run the school like a city government. The study also showed that the highly intelligent pupils had no more re-provement in law observance that could be brought about in young people by having them run the school like a city government. The study also showed that the highly intelligent pupils had no more respect for obedience to law than did the average and slow students. This probably applies to people in general. Respect for law is an attitude of mind and these students found no significant relationship between this attitude and a person's intelligence.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. But, you may ask, why do so many find this man impossible to live with? Because the ideals of both young men and women have of each other are made up of only a few general qualities. They fail to consider that the ideal in these respects may possess a hundred other qualities that are not glamorous at all. Ideal husbands are usually not glamorous but they are extremely considerate of the other fellow and always play fifty-fifty.

FENCE POST "FARMS"

Walla Walla, Wash.—(AP)—"Remember the fence posts" has become an important axiom in the lumber-producing Pacific northwest.

Experts have determined 88,000,000 board feet of lumber are used each year in replacing fence posts in Washington and Oregon alone. In states where farms are smaller, the annual fence post consumption is much larger.

Lumber companies have established several "post farms" near here to test various methods of treating posts to withstand weather and insects.

When the repair is complete, the cellular activity ceases. The cells become quiescent again. Had they continued their activity, a form of cancer would have been the result.

Hence, among studies conducted in search of the answer to the cancer riddle, the one concerning the fundamental problem of growth in cells is being pursued intensively in laboratories all over the world. And as Dr. Morton states: "It is not too much to hope that some day we may be able to get complete control of growth. When this day arrives, we will have the cure for cancer."

ILLINOIS CROP OUTLOOK BEST IN FIVE YEARS

85 Per Cent of Corn Is in Tassel as Oats Harvest Nears Close

Springfield, Ill., July 27—(AP)—The Federal and state agricultural departments reported Monday that the general crop outlook in Illinois "is the best since 1932" despite some insect and storm damage in scattered areas.

Winter wheat harvesting is near completion with better yields and quality in the southern third of the state, the departments said in their joint weekly crop review.

The corn crop prospect was described as "one of the best in recent years, with about 85 per cent of the fields in the tasseling stage. The state's corn acreage was reported at 9,451,000, acres the largest since the 9,817,000 acres planted in 1932.

The oat harvest has been completed in the south and well advanced in the north, with threshing returns holding up to or exceeding expectations, the report said. Although reduced in acreage this season, the hay crop was described as good, with soybean prospects above average generally.

Possible damage to late crops, especially soybeans, by grasshoppers was feared in many northern and central areas while army worms were causing some damage in northeastern counties.

UNCLE SAM'S TENNIS TEAMS RETAKES CUP

Parker Wins Needed Singles Match at Wimbledon

Wimbledon, Eng., July 27.—(AP)—Frustrated for a decade, the United States regained the Davis Cup, emblematic of international team tennis supremacy, today as Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, trounced Charles Edgar Hare, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2, for the point that enabled the Stars and Stripes to clinch the challenge round series with Great Britain.

Parker's victory, gained under sensational circumstances, gave the United States its third and decisive point of the five-match series. One more singles match, between Don Budge, Oakland, Calif., red-headed ace, and Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin, remained to be played but this became merely an exhibition.

Budge won 8-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Almost Flawless
Parker, the decided under-dog as a result of his sad showing against Austin last Saturday, played virtually flawless tennis to score the most important triumph of his career.

Effective on his service, the 21-year-old Milwaukee star ran Hare, a newcomer to Davis Cup tennis, ragged with well-placed lobs whenever the big British southpaw sought to take the net.

It was no contest at any stage of the proceedings, for Hare never could get going again. Parker's clever generalship.

Parker's victory not only gave the United States the trophy for the first time since France won it at Germantown in 1927 but likewise vindicated his selection by Captain Walter L. Pate as a member of the challenge round team, replacing Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta.

Britain Weakened
The team result had been forecast well in advance, for Great Britain weakened by the loss of Fred Perry, now a professional, and of George Patrick Hughes, a doubles artist, through illness, obviously was no match for the American team.

The United States squad, incidentally, was the youngest perhaps, that ever competed in the challenge round. Budge, at 22, is the "veteran" of the team. Parker and Gene Mako of Los Angeles are 21.

When Parker, leading two sets to none and 5-2 in the third, finally won the eighth and final game on three successive errors by Hare, he smiled for the first time during the day. Then he walked jubilantly off the court, filled up a glass of water and poured it down his back.

JEDRZEJOWSKA ALMOST STEALS TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Polish Star Center of Attention at Sea Bright Classic

BULLETIN

Sea Bright, N. J., July 27.—(AP)—Alice Marble of Los Angeles and sturdy Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland marched into the quarter finals of the Sea Bright invitation tennis tournament today with easy second round triumphs.

Miss Marble, U. S. champion, defeated Eleanor Dawson of Pasadena, Calif., 6-0, 6-2, while Miss Jedzejowska vanquished Kay Winthrop of Boston, 6-1, 6-2.

Sea Bright, N. J., July 27.—(AP)—Jadwiga Jedzejowska's family need have no fear that nostalgia will take the edge off the net game of the perennial Polish women's singles champion.

After winning her first match on American soil yesterday in the Sea Bright Lawn Tennis & Cricket club's 50th annual tournament, the husky 24 year old Warsaw girl revealed that her parents warned her she would be "very lonely" in the United States.

"People have been so nice to me since my arrival here," Miss Jedzejowska said, "that I haven't had time to be alone, or to get homesick."

This held true when the gallery deserted 19 other courts to watch her sweep aside Edith Clark of Washington with the loss of only one game.

Miss Clark was willing but utterly outclassed by the almost masculine attack of the Polish girl who holds three victories over Alice Marble, top-seeded in the women's field. The U. S. champion anticipates her fourth meeting with Miss Jedzejowska this week.

Excellent Tennis
The Polish star's appearance all but overshadowed competition in the men's division, where three seeded players went down to defeat in a day which produced some excellent tennis.

Bobby Riggs of Los Angeles reached the third round by defeating Henry M. Cullley of Santa Barbara, Calif., 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, and making good on his selection as the first seeded player.

Wilmer Allison, the former national champion who recently annexed the Spring Lake and Longwood tournament titles, joined Riggs and 12 others in the round of 16 through two impressive triumphs.

The Austin, Tex., veteran defeated William Robertson of Pasadena, Calif., 7-5, 6-2, and Robert Kamrath, a fellow townsman, 6-3, 6-2.

Among others scheduled to play in the third round today were: Norbert Burgess and Norman Bickel of Oak Park, Ill., and Jiro Yamagishi of Japan, and Don McNeill of Oklahoma City.

PAY IS RAISED AS VACATIONS ARE CUT
Granite City, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Firemen and policemen will receive the $175 legal minimum pay here, the Granite City council announced today, but increases meant elimination of 10-day vacations. Formerly the city guardians received $160 a month. At its meeting last night the council also increased the city tax rate from $1.42 to $1.48 per $100.

Cardinal Prince Is Grand Circuit Pacer King Today

Old Orchard Beach, Me., July 27.—(AP)—Cardinal Prince was the king of grand circuit pacers here today as his stable-mate, Greyhound, was undisputed master of the trotters.

The Prince, owned by E. J. Barker, St. Charles, Ill., romped to a three-straight victory in the Old Orchard pace yesterday, guided by Sep Palin. In the second heat, the stallion was clocked in two minutes flat, best pacing time so far, in the "Roaring Grans" two-week meet at the nation's only kite track.

Jane Azoff, owned by H. T. Fulton, Upper Stewiac, N. B., took second share of the $1,000 purse, finishing 6-2-3. Little Pat, from H. D. Biery's Butler, Pa., stable, finished 2-4-5 for third money.

Hanover Mettle, L. W. Benham's Mineola, L. I., entry, paid back-ends 2-2-4 in winning the first heat of the 224 trot, and then went on to take the $600 race with a 1-1-2 ranking. His best time was 2:04.

Nelly Direct, owned by W. B. Eckert, Reading, Pa., walked away with the 222 pace, and did one heat in 2:04.

Milwaukee Ball Club Is Sued By Girl For $50,000

Milwaukee, Wis., July 27.—(AP)—The Milwaukee American Association baseball club was sued today for $50,000 by Miss Katherine Plantz, 21, who charged her sight was impaired permanently by a batted ball that struck her between the eyes.

Her complaint said the ball was hit during pre-game batting practice July 16, 1936, and the management was negligent in failing to have protective netting at the stands where she was seated.

Chicago Nines Win, Lose First Round Semi-Pro Contests

Elgin, Ill., July 27.—(AP)—Chicago teams won and lost in two first round games of the state semi-pro baseball tournament last night. The Sycamore Sons scored a mild upset by whipping the Chicago Mills, 8 to 6. The Hapsburg Beers of Chicago, aided by John Ullman's slugging, downed the Bloomington Democrats, 20 to 14.

Right Fielder Ullman poled two home runs, the second coming in the eighth inning with the bases full.

Chicago Entry First In Annual Mackinac Race

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 27.—(AP)—The Rubaiyat, Chicago entry, was first to finish the 30th annual Chicago-to-Mackinac Island sailing race today, reaching here at 4:13 A. M. (CST). It was the apparent winner of the race, which is judged on the corrected time basis governing handicaps.

The trim craft, owned by Nathaniel Rubinkam and skippered by Henry Rubinkam, crossed the finish line in clear and cool weather with not another competitor in sight.

Winner over storm and fog which forced out at least 34 of the original 42 starters, the Columbia yacht club entry reached here apparently in good condition after her 331-mile trip up Lake Michigan.

Her elapsed time was given as 62:43:21 and her corrected time 1:39:11.

The Southern Cross, Class A cruiser owned by Robert Benedict, Jr., and entered by the Jackson Park Yacht club of Chicago, finished in second place at 6:05 A. M. Her elapsed time was 64 hours and five minutes and time corrected for handicap was 59:10:14.

Clinton Defeated Brooklyn Dodgers

A number of Dixon baseball fans motored to Clinton, Ia., last evening to see the Clinton Three-Eye league team defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League by a score of 5 to 1. At least 6,000 fans crowded into the park to see the game. The Dodgers traveled from Chicago where they meet the Cubs this afternoon, on the NorthWestern-U. P. streamliner, "City of Denver".

PRESSURE ON GIANTS, WHITE SOX OUTFITS

Both Start Road Trips; They Are in 2nd Place

BY BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer
As the Giants opened a 13-game tour of the west and the White Sox began a 12-game swing through the east, the pressure today definitely was on these second-place teams in the major league races.

The Giants, battling to regain first place and retain the pennant they won last year, squared off against the St. Louis Cardinals with a two-game gap between them and the leading Cubs. The Sox, striving manfully for their first bunting since 1929, opened a three-game series at Washington with a five-game chasm between them and the top-riding Yanks.

Smaller Margin

Bill Terry's troupe has a smaller margin to make up, but went into the west with a badly patched lineup. Mickey Haslin, filling in at shortstop for demon Dick Bartell, has committed fielding lapses that were excusable, but hardly helpful, and has come nowhere near equaling Bartell's ability to deliver timely hits.

Harry Danning was wielded a potent war club as filler-inner for catcher Gus Mancuso, but the ailing Mancuso knows best how to jockey the Terry pitching staff.

That staff, once the Giants' pride and joy, is another sore point. Bolstered somewhat by the drafting of veteran Ben Cantwell from the Jersey City "farm", it has been weakened by the illness of "Slick" Castelman and the undependability of Hal Schumacher. That leaves only Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton as regular members of the "big four" in good standing.

64 Players Enter Chicago Sectional Qualifying Round

Chicago, July 27.—(AP)—Sixty-four players, the largest sectional delegation of the day's big national amateur golf tournament qualifying program, headed out over Olympic Field Country club today on a 36-hole journey.

To the low 16 will go places among the 153 shotmakers who will battle for the national amateur crown Aug. 23-28 at Portland, Ore. At the same time 486 other players will seek to qualify in tests at 27 other courses. Among competitors here were Paul Leslie of Louisiana State, Don Armstrong, Gus Moreland, low amateur in the Chicago open, Johnny Lehman and Russell Martin.

STATE ADVISERS NOW SERVE EACH ILLINOIS COUNTY

For First Time in History
All Units to Get Expert Service

For the first time in the history of Illinois every farmer in the state now has access to new information on better farming methods through the state's county advisory system of carrying on extension service teaching in agriculture and home economics under supervision of the state college of agriculture.

H. W. Mumford, dean of the college, J. C. Spittler, state leader of farm advisers, and other extension workers saw a 25-year-old dream come true when Perry county, the last one to come in, joined Jackson county in advisory work. J. G. McCall, who has been farm adviser for Jackson county since March 1, 1930, is now serving Perry county as well. The board of directors of the Jackson County Farm Bureau voted Perry county into their organization recently.

Adoption of extension service teaching in agriculture and home economics in the 102nd county came just 25 years and four days after DeKalb and Kankakee counties employed the first farm advisers in Illinois on June 1, 1912.

Serving the 102 counties of Illinois now are 97 farm advisers and 11 assistant farm advisers. In addition 56 counties are organized for home economics extension work and are employing 50 home advisers. The many farm and home advisers who have served under the system have put in more than 2,000 years of their best efforts toward advancing the economic and social welfare of Illinois farmers and their families.

The 25th anniversary of the beginning of the state's county advisory system will be celebrated September 3 at the Illinois farm sports festival at the agricultural college, where a pageant will be presented, depicting the various stages of development of the system. This year also marks the 50th year of service by the state college experiment station.

Use Special Care In Shipping Hogs In Hot Weather

With heat waves making their appearance now and then, it might be well to take note of the following suggestions in respect to shipping livestock to market. This applies specially to hogs, and is given by Ray Miller of the Chicago Producers Commission association.

1. Haul or drive your hogs to the loading point in ample time to allow them to become rested and cool before loading.

2. Insist upon a clean car or truck bedded with sand.

3. Wet down the bedding and interior of the car or truck before loading.

4. Give only a light grain feeding before shipping. A heavy feed means more body heat and greater danger of loss.

5. Do not load more than one hour before the train or truck departs.

6. Load slowly and carefully. Avoid exciting the animals, and do not beat or bruise them.

7. Do not overload. A crowded car or truck increases the risk of deaths or cripples.

8. When shipping by rail have the car drenched at every available stop, immediately after the train stops.

9. Use ice bags suspended from the car roof whenever possible, six bags to a car will suffice.

All previous records for hail insurance on growing crops in Illinois will be broken this year, according to the insurance affiliate of the IAA. The present outlook, according to officials, is for at least $16,000,000 of such insurance this year which compares with about $10,000,000 in 1935, the previous high year. Corn, wheat, oats, barley and soybeans are the chief crops covered.

Eight times during the last month Illinois farmers topped the daily Chicago stock yards cattle trade. Bureau county led with three top market shipments. Tazewell county had two market-topping shipments, with DeKalb, Carroll and Whiteside counties one each.

The annual state 4-H club livestock and dairy cattle judging contests will be held at the college of agriculture Monday, August 2.

R. V. McKee of Varna, Marshall county, was elected president of the Illinois Farm Bureau Serum association at a meeting of the directors at Chicago recently. He succeeds the late Edgar Walther of Rock Island county. Ray Cunningham of Bismarck was named vice president.

The board of directors of the Iowa Farm Bureau federation spent an entire day recently studying the setup and service program of the Illinois Agricultural association in the IAA offices at Chicago. The Iowa organization is considering plans to use certain features developed by the Illinois association.

Donald Kirkpatrick, general counsel for the Illinois Agricultural association, who spoke recently at two mass meetings in Nebraska, said the farmers of that state want the new agricultural adjustment bill enacted into law before another surplus crop emergency rolls around. Illinois farmers approved the bill at a meeting at Springfield.

In a move to obtain uniform milk prices for its members the McLean county producers have decided to cancel contracts with Bloomington milk dealers October 1 and seek new contracts under which all payments would be made to the Producers' association instead of the individual producers.

The annual Carroll County Farm Bureau picnic and 4-H club roundup will be held Monday, August 23, on the Claude Cook farm south of Lanark. Committees have been named for various phases of the program.

Iowa state college economists report that for June hog slaughter under federal inspection fell below that of the corresponding month a year ago. This year's June slaughter was 2,110,060 head, practically the same as were slaughtered in May, but 600,000 fewer than were slaughtered in June, 1936. Since October, 1936, hog slaughter under federal inspection has amounted to 28.8 million head, compared to 23.6 million head for the same period last year.

Good salesmanship is the basis of effective livestock marketing, in the opinion of R. C. Ashby, associate chief in livestock marketing of the Illinois college of agriculture. He maintains that Illinois farmers must meet centralized buying with centralized selling if their livestock is to be sold effectively.

Farmers of this area who have quick grass on their farms are

Calves creep-fed made their best and most economical gains on a ration of shelled corn and cottonseed cake in a test by the United States department of agriculture in co-operation with the Missouri experiment station. At the end of the 140-day test calves fed this ration averaged eight pounds more than another group fed ground shelled corn and cottonseed cake, 13 pounds more than calves fed ground corn, cottonseed cake and alfalfa-molasses mixture, and 22 pounds more than a group receiving shelled corn, cottonseed cake, and alfalfa-molasses mixture. High-grade Shorthorn calves were used in the test.

This is the fifteenth year of the federal shipping point inspection service on fresh fruits and vegetables, administered by the bureau of agricultural economics. Nearly five times as many carloads of these commodities were inspected during 1936 as during 1923, the first full year of this service. In nearly all parts of the country the service is self-sustaining. Costs to users vary from $2.50 to $5 per car, depending upon the volume inspected, the number of points at which service is offered and the length of the season.

A Rochelle cannery is planning a pack of corn-on-the-cob this season to supplement the cream and whole kernel packs. Indications point to a good sweet corn yield in this area.

Teams of the Ogle county 4-H clubs engaged in live stock projects competed Saturday to select teams to represent the county at the state judging contest at Urbana on August 2.

How tall is your corn? This department is interested in learning if farmers of this area have grown corn as tall as that already reported down in Bureau county. E. B. Stoughton, near Ocho, reports he has grown some corn which is now eight feet tall and still growing rapidly, while Erik Rapp, near Princeton, reported some days ago that a few stalks in his field had reached a height of 7 feet and 8 inches. We are told that Lee county has grown some mighty tall corn and are anxious to get a line on any exceptional fields. We also would like to hear from the farm folks up in Ogle county concerning this talk corn challenge of Bureau county farmers. Address your communications to the Farm Editor of The Telegraph.

Nearly 50 men and boys have started detasseling corn grown in the vicinity for the Illinois Hi-Bred Corn company of Princeton. Over 1,000 acres are under contract by this company and from this acreage a yield of 40,000 to 50,000 bushels of seed corn is anticipated. The company's new plant for processing the corn is nearing completion at Princeton and machinery will be installed in a few weeks. At the height of the detasseling season the company expects to employ 150 persons for that work.

Andrew Happ, near Mendota, believes he has a record oats crop for this area. One of the first farmers to thresh his oats, he says the yield is around 70 bushels to the acre. A number of farmers have combined their oats this year. Shocking of oats is about completed on Lee county farms. Some rust has been noted, especially where the grain was down, but this has not materially reduced the yield. Farmers have indicated the crop will average slightly below normal in this area.

Although growing old is not a sport with some people, the oldest Farm Bureau member who attends the farm sports festival at Urbana September 3 and 4 will be awarded a prize, the Illinois Agricultural association announces. Several old time sports such as horseshoes, tug-of-war and square dances are on the program and are expected to bring out the older generation.

DIXONITE TELLS MERITS OF F. F. A. FOR FARM BOYS

Many Contests and Varied
Awards Are Offered
All Members

A. L. Schick, vocational agricultural instructor at the Oregon community high school and well known in Dixon, where he was graduated from high school, has written The Telegraph another article dealing with the Future Farmers of America. It follows:

The Future Farmers of America, commonly called the F. F. A., is a national organization of boys who are enrolled in vocational agricultural departments. This name was chosen for this particular group because the members are the future farmers and farm leaders of the country.

At the present time 47 states have state associations. There are more than 4,000 active chapters with an enrollment of more than 100,000 members. This club elects its own officers and they have their aims and objectives to strive for.

Have Many Contests

Boys in the F. F. A. have sectional, state and national contests in livestock, dairy cattle, milk products and meat judging. They also have sectional, state and national oratorical contests and sectional and state poultry, corn and grain judging. The boys have fairs to exhibit livestock and grain. These fairs are state and federally aided.

Boys that enter these contests and put a lot into them have a very good opportunity to gain many valuable suggestions and experiences that are useful in various later contests and in their life vocations. The contests are organized to give individual and team awards. A boy that works hard has an opportunity for individual recognition.

Awards Numerous

The awards of these contests are many and varied. Such articles as ribbons, banners, magazine subscriptions, cups, scholarships, trips, medals, books, and cash prizes are given in the larger contests.

Members of winning teams at the state contests are sent to the national contests. The boys get to meet other boys from all over the country and to compete with them.

Boys winning in the state and national contests receive considerable publicity in state farm magazines and newspapers. They meet agricultural leaders of the state and nation and they have a lot to be proud of. They also have a chance to receive higher degrees in the F. F. A. organization.

Successful formula is as follows: Bran, 60 to 65 percent; molasses, 15 percent; Epsom salts 20 to 25 percent, and enough water to moisten into a mash which can be scattered without being too thick or too thin.

Beekeepers of Lee, Ogle and Winnebago counties are to have an afternoon meeting and picnic supper at the B. E. Beach beyard, 126 Clifford avenue, Rockford, on August 3. The Memorial hall has been engaged for the evening speakers and entertainment.

"C'mon Grandpa! Sock the old apple over the fence!" Such may be the sideline chatter when the adult Farm Bureau soft ball championships get going at the Illinois farm sports festival at Urbana September 3 and 4. This division is open only to men 35 or over.

A pamphlet describing construction of grasshopper catchers or dozers may be had by writing the Illinois college of agriculture at Urbana.

Organized rural youth groups of the state have been invited by rural youth groups in Jackson, Johnson and Williamson counties to a rural youth day program and tour at Giant City state park August 7.

Farmers of this area may employ contour strip cropping on slopes of 3 per cent or more and may earn payments at the rate of $1 an acre under a recent ruling concerning soil-building practices for the 1937 soil conservation program.

Harvey J. Schweitzer of Malta, over in DeKalb county, and Miss Katherine Benson of Rio, Knox county, were the Illinois 4-H club boy and girl selected for Four-Square Danforth Foundation Ralston Purina Company 4-H club scholarships. The awards provide for the cost of two weeks of camping, training, board, lodging and social activities. Schweitzer will go to Camp Minewabata on Lake Michigan, near Selby, Mich., August 15 to 29, while Miss Benson will participate in the camp August 2 to 15.

The Lee County Farm Bureau is sponsoring safety lane auto tests at Amboy Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Polo Go Getters Are Winners in Judging Contest

The livestock judging team representing the Polo Go Getters 4-H club led by Clyde E. Fry won the county championship in the livestock judging contest last Saturday. Seven clubs were represented by judging teams of 3 boys each in the contest.

The boys composing the winning team included Max Stiff, Harold Stauffer, and Billy Typer. They will be entitled by winning this contest to represent Ogle county in the state 4-H judging contest at the University of Illinois on Monday, August 2.

The county contest consisted of placing 8 rings of livestock with 4 animals in a ring, including 2 rings of horses, 2 of beef cattle, 2 of hogs, and 2 of sheep.

Second place in the contest was won by the Northeast Ogle club, their team being composed of Leonard Carmichael, Robert Alcock, and John Williams, led by Claude Holmes.

The third place went to the Jolly Juniors club led by Howard Schoonhoven, the team consisting of Junior Lyman, Robert Milligan, and Ward Countryman.

The high individual score was made by Max Stiff of the winning team and there was a tie for the 2nd high score between Harold Stauffer of the Polo Go Getters and Francis Baker of the Mt. Morris team.

Other clubs participating in the contest were: the Mt. Morris club led by L. N. Patton and represented by Francis Baker, Robert Brewer, and Robert Diehl; the Eagle Springs club led by Donald Brown and represented by Bob Unger, Lytle Brown, and Wilson Beightol; the Rock River 4-H club of Byron led by D. A. Parish and represented by Kenneth Andrews, Gerald Case, and Slagle Case; the Adeline 4-H club led by Robert Trei and represented by Floyd Coffman, Carroll Coffman, and Orville Borneman.

OHIO FARMERS SUCCESSFUL AS STOCK FEEDERS

Get Good Prices for Cattle
Sold on Chicago
Market

J. A. McGonigle and George McGonigle, who farm two miles east and two miles south of Ohio, form a father and son combination which has been highly successful in the feeding of cattle. Recently they topped the Chicago market with a lot of seven heifers which brought $14.75. The group of heifers was marketed along with 43 steers which brought $15.15. Just a few cents below the top for steers around 1,007. The average weight of the heifers was 882 pounds.

The calves, bought in October, weighed 458 and cost $7.45 per hundred weight. During the feeding period they showed excellent gains, adding an average of two pounds a day.

For the first 43 days the herd was fed on blue grass pasture. After about 10 days an ensilage ration with oats, corn and commercial feed was added. After the silage was exhausted clover hay was substituted, and the cattle gradually were put on a full feed of corn and commercial feed. They were finished for the market on this last ration.

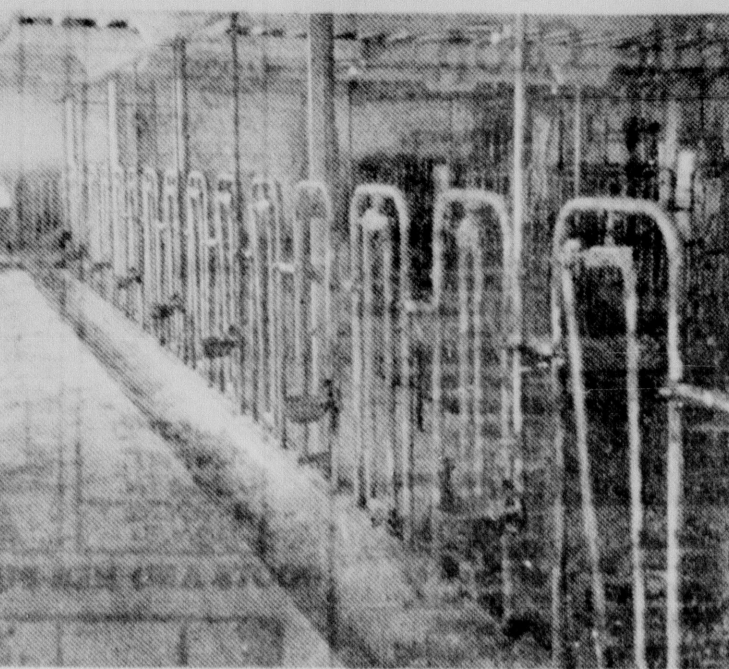

Dan Ioder, whose farm is three miles northwest of Ohio, also is another of the successful feeders of this area. A lot of 46 head brought a price of $15.40 per cwt. The cattle averaged 1,140 pounds and was within 20 cents on the Chicago top the day they were marketed.

The Ioder cattle came from Colorado and were put in his feed lot on December 10. At that time the average weight was 705 pounds. During the feeding period of slightly more than 200 days they showed an average gain of two pounds each day.

Visible Grain Supply
New York, July 27.—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: Wheat increased 20,573,000; corn decreased 66,000; oats increased 356,000; rye decreased 301,000; barley decreased 225,000.

More than half of the 7083 islands in the Philippine group have no names.

Has Modern Dairy Barn

George S. Patterson, who operates two farms totaling 222 acres along route No. 3, about two miles east of Dixon, is one of the large dairymen of this area. He specializes in Guernseys and at present has about 60 head, including several calves. He is milking 28 cows now and markets about eight cans daily with the Borden company at Dixon.

Mr. Patterson has a model cattle barn 120 by 48 feet, and adjoining is a cattle shed 120 by 20 feet. The barn is equipped with the latest steel stanchions with individual automatic drinking cups for the cows. The water system is operated by pumps with electricity as the power, and barn is electrically lighted. The stanchions will accommodate 38 cows.

All the milking on the Patterson farm is done by hand. Mr. Patterson said he finds it as satisfactory as milking machines. All feed for his herd is raised on the farm, which he has been operating the last nine years.

Uses Horses, Mules

He is one of the few farmers in Lee county who still use horses or mules exclusively for planting and harvesting. Mr. Patterson uses both horses and mules and this spring he plowed a total of 90 acres and got his corn and other crops in in plenty of time.

Although Mr. Patterson lost a 20-acre field of alfalfa as a result of adverse weather during last winter and spring, he still has almost enough alfalfa hay in his barn to meet the needs of his livestock. As an emergency measure, however, he planted 20 acres to soybeans to be harvested as hay.

He has just finished shocking his 40 acres of oats. Where the oats showed a good stand he expects a yield of 50 bushels to the acre, but some oats that were down developed red rust which may cut the yield slightly.

Good Corn Acreage

He planted 80 acres of corn this year and some is now in tassels. Of this total 30 acres are in hybrid. Mr. Patterson formerly bred only Holsteins, but he had the misfortune to lose 29 animals in a tuberculosis test and switched to Guernseys. He also feeds some hogs and already has marketed 25 at Chicago and will have 30 more head ready for market in about two weeks. He received $12.40 per cwt. for his first lot.

He has sold about 200 White Rocks this spring and still has a flock of 200 hens.

Better times are back again for Illinois farmers if the fact that they are spending more money on recreation, on personal expenditures and on automobiles is a sign. Two hundred forty farm families that kept home account records during 1936 and that have recently had their expenditures and savings analyzed by the college of agriculture, found that the average amount of money they had spent for general expenditures including such items as education expenses, recreation, medical care, transportation expense, church, community welfare and gifts, had made quite a gain over the previous year.

More than any other division of family living expenditures, the general expenditures give a keynote as to the level of standard of living of the family, states Mrs. Ruth Crawford Freeman, home accounts specialist of the college. This is because general expenditures are not necessities but are in the realm of choice.

Because there was more money available for living in 1936 than in 1935, the percentage of money going into general expenditures took up no larger amount of the total income than in other years.

With the extra amount of money available following payment of debts and other living items, one-fourth of these Illinois families in 1936 either replaced old cars with new ones or a later model.

The amount of money they spent on recreation, although it averaged about $37 for each family, was the highest since 1932. One family out of every three reported a trip of some kind ranging in cost from $2 to $520.

College Attendance Up
Educational expenses for each family did not increase much over the preceding year although one-third more children were attending college in 1936 than in 1935, says Mrs. Freeman. Thirty-two of the 54 young people who were of college age in the families were attending in 1936 and were supported in part or in total from family funds.

A fact to be noted is that money spent for medical care did not increase, although there was more money available for family spending in 1936. This raises the question, according to Mrs. Freeman, as to whether the families were above average in health or whether they were not availing themselves of the opportunity to have adequate medical care of both the preventive and curative type.

Church, community welfare and gifts showed an increase only in the amount of money spent for gifts. The increase of money spent for personal pleasures was largely due to a regular allowance paid to the children in each family.

FARMERS' GROUPS MAY FORM FOR U. S. SOIL AID

New State Law Permits
Formation of District
Units

Organizations which will enable Illinois farmers to accept federal aid through the United States soil conservation service in controlling soil erosion and in conserving soil fertility have been provided for in the Illinois conservation district law which was passed by the recent session of the legislature and approved by Governor Henry Horner.

Administering the new law will be a state conservation board composed of H. W. Mumford, dean of the state agricultural college and director of the state extension service; J. H. Lloyd, director of the state department of agriculture, and three farmers to be named by Governor Horner.

The law provides that an organization can be set up by petition of 25 land owners to the state board. Proposed boundaries of the district will be set out in the petition. After hearings and deliberations the state board will cause a referendum to be held in the district, and if a majority of the land owners vote favorably a district organization will be formed. Each district organization elects directors who may, after a reasonable classification has been made of the land in the district, formulate ordinances regulating the usage of such land in the district.

To be effective, such ordinances must receive the favorable vote of three-fourths of all owners of land lying within the district.

Farmers can petition to terminate the organization after three years. As in forming a district, the state board receives the petition and causes another referendum to be held if it sees fit.

Accident Maker Is Now Exposed

The culprit has been apprehended and his identity revealed. Who is he? What did he do? Let the Illinois Agricultural Association
department of safety tell you. He is the person who causes most of the highway accidents and near-accidents. As you may well imagine, exposing this devilish chap was not so simple. He has hidden for years under a false name, "Other Fellow." Under that name he has fooled all of us, but now we know that he is ourselves. As sure as shootin', the real vandal is you and me. Today we are patient and cautious and behave like ourselves.
Tomorrow we may be overbearing
and surly-like the "Other Fellow." Again we may drive thoughtfully, obeying every rule of sane
driving, then, suddenly we change
into that demon, the "Other Fellow." We step on the gas, pass every car on the road and hunt out the risky spots. And if anyone gets in our way we rave and curse. This "Other Fellow," who is really ourselves, needs watching, warns C.
M. Seagraves, director of the I. A.
A. safety department.

BOYS AND GIRLS TO SEEK STATE JUDGING HONORS

More Than 500 to Take Part in Contests
August 2

More than 500 farm boys and girls, some from Lee and Ogle counties, will be contestants in the annual 4-H club dairy cattle and livestock judging contests to be held at the Illinois college of agriculture
Monday, Aug. 2. E. I. Pilchard, extension specialist in junior club
work, said the contestants will represent the pick of the livestock and dairy judges among the more than 28,000 4-H club members of Illinois
who are carrying on better farming and homemaking projects under the supervision of farm and home advisers and the college extension service.

Kendall and Shelby counties won state championship honors last year. Teams winning the state contest in livestock judging will represent Illinois in the non-collegiate judging contests to be held during the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago in November, and winners in the dairy cattle judging contest will represent the state in national 4-H dairy judging contests held in connection with the National Dairy Show
at Columbus, O., in October.

Forty-four counties were represented last year in the dairy division and 63 counties had teams in the livestock judging contests. Highest scoring individual in the dairy judging was Loren Turner of the Coles county team, while Garland
Jennings of a Gallatin county team took high individual honors in stock judging.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

If you have been watching the poultry markets the last few weeks, you have seen the price advancing. Those of you who stayed in the poultry business this spring
are going to be well repaid for your courage.

The crops look wonderful.
There seems to be no question that we will have lots of feed. With lower feed costs and higher poultry prices, conditions are better for the poultry raiser than they have been for several years.

And since they are, it seems too
bad for anyone to sell light weight spring chickens, as a good many people have been doing. People who have 4 and 5 pound chickens
to sell now are getting a good price for them. Why sacrifice these young chickens at light weights
when you can grow them to 4 and 5 pounds and get a really satisfactory price? You have the feed to grow them big!

Will Pay for Quality
People have more money to spend than they had two or three years ago and price is not their first consideration any more.

They are interested in QUAL-ITY again. If they can get something GOOD, they're willing to pay for it. You know better than anyone else that there is a big difference in chickens. People who are buying chickens are recognizing this difference. And they are willing to pay a considerably better
price for a good chicken.

This should be good news to anyone who has good quality to sell and it should certainly encourage other people to improve the quality of their chickens.

This willingness of consumers to pay a premium for good poultry is making it possible for the poultry buyer in the country to pay the producer a premium. Eggs have been graded in most places for several years now. You know, if you have good eggs, that you have been able to get a better price for them
by selling them on a quality basis.

The practice of grading poultry
is spreading rapidly and, as producers, I think you should welcome it and encourage it. It's going to mean more money in your picket if you have fine chickens to sell!

Sincerely yours,
Frank Priebe

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOY—Heroine, hostess in smart
Maine seashore.
ROGER—Joy's fiance; rising
young designer.
ANGELA—Joy's rival in love.
DICK—Another young playboy.
Roger's rival in love.

Yesterday, realizing that Dick is in some manner involved
with strange events at the summer resort, registers her agreement to marry him.

CHAPTER XI
MONDAY: Was I mad last night? All Mrs. Fenwick
wanted was an audience and I had to sit and listen to her talk about some new idea she's got in her head . . . why had she to pick on me?

Picked up the newspapers when Cal brought them in this afternoon . . . first thing that caught my eye was a paragraph about Roger. He's just received a contract from some automobile company to design new interiors for salesrooms. We used to talk a lot about the opportunities Roger could find for the development of his art . . . so he's getting ahead
just as we planned . . . does Angela inspire him, I wonder? Next thing I noticed was a headline
about the Ace-High Club . . .
closed indefinitely . . . hints that Rocco has disappeared . . . does that mean Angela's vanished too?

Saw something in The Crow's Nest about Rocco . . . evidently he's in some mess . . . the police
with the law . . . the police . . .
must check up on that in morn-ing's paper. Never had a minute
for my trip to the haunted house
(for I've made up my mind to go there and look things over). It must be a queer place if the friends of Jigger and whoever lives with him always call there
at night . . .

THE most exciting event of the day happened in the forenoon.
Mrs. Fenwick sent for me when I was out in the garden getting some flowers.
"Leave everything and go at once to Miss Pegler's cottage," she said, and she was all "Buttery"
like she gets when she's very excited.

"What's happened?" I asked, for not having heard a word from Dick, I felt it must concern him.
"I can't tell you . . . I'm afraid
the old lady has some bad news
for you."

As I hurried along the private path to her cottage a thousand
questions rose in my mind . . .
but always the words of Miss Pegler's lawyer echoed in my ears,
"If we can fix this matter in time,
but I doubt it." . . . I'd wondered at the time what he meant . . . I wondered more now.

Soil Performance In Lee County To be Checked

Checking of performance under the 1937 soil conservation program
will begin in Lee County about August 10, according to J. M. Keay of Amboy, secretary of the county agricultural conservation association.
Other counties in this area will start field reporters on this work between August 1 and 10. The work is to be completed by November 1.
Return postcards have been mailed
Lee county landowners and operators on which they are to make application for payments under the 1937 program. The owners or operators must answer several questions on the card before mailing them. It was announced no farm
would be inspected for performance
unless the owner or operator sends a card to the office of the county association, so farmers desiring payment should fill out the cards
and mail them promptly.

Ogle Farm Picnic Set for Aug. 21

The annual picnic of the Ogle County Farm Bureau will be held at the Ogle county fair grounds at Oregon on Saturday, August 21. A program of sports will be arranged including ball games in which both
the Farm Bureau hard ball team and the winning soft ball teams in the county tournament will take part. The 4-H club members in livestock project will exhibit their calves and pigs, and the girls in food and clothing will exhibit garments and foods. Games for children and entertainment in which everyone may take part is being planned.

The maid showed me into Miss Pegler's boudoir . . . I was shocked at the old lady's appearance . . .
it was only a few days since I'd seen her . . . now she looked shrunken and oh, so old . . . all
her "up and coming" spirit
crushed.
I hurried toward her. She took me in her arms. "Oh, my dear,"
she said, and her voice shook with emotion, "that I should ever live to see this day . . . it's Dick that I want to talk about," and the tears rolled down her cheeks.
"He's not—" I began.
"No, he's not dead, but he's fled
the country . . . my lawyer has told me everything . . . helped to get him away . . . to keep him out of jail . . . to think that my brother's son should stoop so low."
"Oh, Miss Pegler," I whispered
"what else could I say?"

WIPING away her tears, Miss Pegler said, "You may as well know the truth . . . perhaps I should have told you before, but I'm fond of my nephew and he got a fresh start, things might have worked out all right.
"The trouble started when he was at college. He got in with a fast set . . . started gambling . . .
my lawyer arranged the allowance from his father's estate and of course I gave him gifts from time to time . . . however, he was always in debt . . . then he met
some crooks . . . counterfeiters . . .
paid thirty dollars for a hundred dollars' worth of bogus money.
"Things went from bad to worse
till he could not afford to buy any more of the counterfeit money, so
the man made a deal with him
and he was supposed to pay a certain percentage on every hundred dollars' worth of counterfeit money
he disposed of . . . unfortunately he kept on gambling and got behind in his payments . . . that was really why he left New York so gladly (though I had no suspicion of it at the time). I'm keeping nothing back from you."

"I think you're very brave, Miss Pegler," I said.
"Don't say that, my dear. But I must tell you the rest of this terrible story. Jigger, the man for whom Dick was working, had to take to cover and shortly after we arrived Dick ran across him here. After that he had no more all the time . . . if only Dick had told me everything I would have helped him. However, a friend of his . . . a young designer—Roger,
I believe he called him though I never knew his last name—
warned him that Jigger's friend,
Rocco, had planned to have him

kidnaped as he was in desperate straits for money . . . oh, there are so many angles to the whole thing, that I could talk to you for long enough. I don't know if I can ever forgive myself for urging you to marry him . . . all I can do for you now, my dear, is to settle an income on you . . . and though he is my nephew, and no doubt you loved him, there is only one thing to do—forget him."
"Oh, Miss Pegler, you mustn't
think of giving me any money.
You're not to blame . . . all I hope is that Dick may yet make you proud of him."

Farmers Planning 1938 Lamb Crop

With much of the 1937 spring
lamb crop gone to market, Illinois
farmers are looking ahead with preparations for the 1938 season.
Experience of lamb feeders this year bears out the findings of the Illinois college of agriculture that the production of choice lambs is based on ewes of good motherly type with a good purebred ram
crossed with one of the recognized breeds, according to H. G. Russell, college livestock extension specialist. He says that size and quality of the lamb crop is improved if the breeding ewes receive grain prior to breeding time and again prior to lambing time. Ewes thrive best during the winter on good quality
legume hay with plenty of exercise.

IT COMES ANY WHEN

Lincoln, Neb.—(AP)—If you stop
up to a soda fountain and find
"Why—All Flavors" on the menu, don't be surprised. New uses for the liquid that separates from the curd when milk is churned have been found, say G. A. Ramsell and G. H. Ward of the federal dairy research laboratories.

Why, partially condensed and sweetened, can be blended with certain other foods into a nutritious
and palatable new series of edibles, Ramsell and Ward report. It can be used in fruit whips, candy and sometimes may be substituted for egg white.

Why makes an excellent icing
with the addition of suitable flavors and colors and is "tops" when used at the corner drugstore with hot chocolate and sundaes.

An Arizona publisher printed a cook book containing more than 600 recipes in which cactus plants are used.

WALKING home my spirits felt lighter than they had for many a day. In spite of my grief
for the old lady and her troubles,
my heart was singing . . . what she'd said about Rocco and Roger assured me Roger did not consider Rocco his friend, otherwise
he would have aided and abetted
him to kidnap Dick.

There were no trips to the village tonight . . . after the special dinner parties no one felt like dancing, so when I went upstairs
I stopped for a minute in Tess's
room, sampled some of the candy
Jimmy had sent her . . . noticed some newspapers at the foot of her bed.
"Going to read all these tonight?" I asked.
"No, I got a magazine from Big Kate . . . guess I'll read that Take all the papers if you want them."

I did, and glanced at the headlines for I fear my knowledge of world affairs grows less and less
daily, for our talk is usually restricted to local gossip supplied by Cal and the rest of the staff
. . . I really feel perfectly acquainted with all the village celebrities.

Turned at once to The Crow's Nest when I reached my room.
After reading a few issues of the paper began to wonder if Rocco pays the columnist for all the boasts he gives Angela's romance with Roger . . . wonder how Roger feels about these squibs
. . . wonder if he registers any protests against the gossipier's
barraque.

Tried to banish Roger from my thoughts . . . interpret some of the hints given in this column.
. . . Then I realized what Dick's tricks had done to me . . . my economic problems loomed before me . . . no wealthy marriage
now would make things easy for me . . . what does Fate hold for me now?

Northern Illinois Cows in Lead in 500-Pound Club

Urbana, Ill., July 27—(AP)—Led
by two from northern Illinois, more than 500 cows with a production
of more than 250 pounds of butterfat for the first six months of the year have met half the requirements for membership in the state 500-pound butterfat cow club.

This was announced today by C.
S. Rhode and J. G. Cash of the dairy department, Illinois college of agriculture. Only 202 cows made the club requirements in 1936.

The two leaders already have qualified for membership. One,
from the herd of W. T. Rawledge, Freeport, has produced 535.8 pounds
of butterfat. The other, owned by Frank Rief, Hampshire, 504.2
pounds. Sixteen cows ranked above
the 400-pound mark.

Women Practice Checker Playing

Lee and Ogle county farm homemakers are dusting off the family checkerboards and are practicing the tricky moves of the game in preparation for the state checkers
tournament at the farm sports festival at Urbana September 3 and
4. Male master minds, too, are studying the black and white squares intently during spare time these days. And it is well that they are,
because the winner in the women's tournament is expected to challenge the male champ for the state title. Checkers may be classed by some as a parlor game, but when the eternal conflict of the sexes is brought into it, a stout heart and a steady nerve are necessary in the man who faces a wily Miss or Mrs. over the board.

ANDREWS GROVE SCENE OF FARM PICNIC AUG. 25

Trask Bridge Outing to Attract Thousands
of Ruralists

Rockford, Ill., July 27—(Special)
—Approximately 50,000 northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin and eastern Iowa residents will gather at Andrews grove, 11 miles northwest of Rockford, on Wednesday,
Aug. 25, for the 27th edition of the world's largest farm outing—the Trask Bridge picnic.

Stared every year since 1911 by Burritt grange, picnickers from a radius of several miles flock to the grounds to enjoy sports and farm
contests, basket dinners, dancing,
hear nationally known speakers
and have an all-around good time
with their friends. Plans are under way to obtain another well-known speaker this year, possibly
from the United States department of agriculture.

Besides the usual entertainment
features such as tractor plowing
contests, horseshoe pitching, band
concerts, baseball games, etc.,
there will be a number of new features this year, according to Harold Crandall, master of Burritt
grange and picnic committee chairman.

Music will be furnished by half a dozen bands, there will be baseball games morning and afternoon

AUGUST 28 IS NAMED LEE CO. DAY AT FAIR

Hog-Calling One of Many Special Events on Big Program

The problem whether "whoee," "sooee," "pigcooey" or just "pug! pug! pug!" is the most appealing kind of hog call for the farmers of this area will be settled at the Lee county fair and horse show at the Dixon airport.

Officers and directors of the fair association decided at a meeting last night to include a hog-calling contest as one of the big features of the fair. This contest will take place on Saturday, August 28, the second day of the fair. This day is to be designated as Lee county day and a special program of entertainment for everyone is being arranged.

The Lee county day events will include hog-calling, pie-eating, chicken-calling and greased pig and greased pole contests.

Grand Champion

Charles R. Walgreen's grand champion steer also will be on exhibition on this occasion. This will give farmers of this area an opportunity to see the animal which judges considered the tops at the last International Livestock exposition at Chicago.

With a premium list of $4,500, more than 61,000 greater than last year, the three-day fair, August 27, 28 and 29, is expected to draw the largest number of exhibitors for any county fair in recent years.

The big entertainment will include horse-pulling contests which will be available to any team owner living within 40 miles of Dixon. Other big entertainment features and clean concessions will provide a varied amusement program throughout the fair.

FARMERS CATCH 800

POUNDS OF 'HOPPERS

Mount Carmel, Ill., July 27—(AP) Russell Glick and his son, Ernest, a vocational agriculture student, reported today they had caught almost 800 pounds of grasshoppers in their alfalfa field with a homemade trap built along the lines of sample patterns furnished by the University of Illinois.

They pulled the trap back and forth through the field. The grasshoppers were drowned and fed to the hogs.

Grasshoppers are numerous in this section. Many farmers have used poisoned bait to kill the pests.
